Information About Your Physical Exam

During your annual physical examination, your physician may find it necessary to discuss changes in your chronic condition(s) or discuss new concerns. If this occurs, your insurance company may view this as an additional office visit. This additional service may not be considered a part of your physical/preventative care benefits. Therefore, your insurance company may apply these charges towards your deductible/co-insurance, and a copay will be assessed.

Your out-of-pocket expense will be determined once your insurance company processes the claim. You may be responsible for any services rendered that are not covered by your insurance company.
